

Success is liking yourself, liking what you do, and liking how you do it. ~Maya Angelou

The above quote is proved by our Indusian- Rajat Jhavar from class XI who through his practice and hard work, turned his hobby into a passion and earned "STAR" artist award for the second time in Picasso International art competition. This is a global online art contest which has been started to motivate artistic and creative minds and provides a good platform for many young artists. Indus World School has always believed in integrating MACDS (Music, Art , Craft Dance and Sports) as part of the curriculum and provides training and platform for children to excel in them . These activities help in the overall development of the children and enable them to acquire the skills required to be effective leaders in the 21st Century.
